

>>> On 4/22/2011 at 2:08 PM, in message <BLU0-SMTP50BF838D998C061D95ED6BA2950@phx.gbl>, Debbye Prator <[REDACTED]> wrote:

BUMPER PADS:

Please have these taken off the market before one more death occurs. We lost our grandchild April 8, 2010, due to suffocation from bumper pads. The medical examiner of our state clearly determined this and an investigator from Consumer Products Safety Commission determined this as well. What more is needed to take action? We are not the only people who have gone through this. It gravely affected our family emotionally and materially. Our daughter and son-in-law did not spend another night in their home and sold it, losing ALL the money they had in it. Please help other parents by removing deadly products from the marketplace. Bumper pads and sleep positioners have no place in the crib.

Thank you,

Dr. Mark and Deborah Prator
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]